

Property Update 7/10/2015

We are currently completing our due diligence on the new property prior to closing. We are completing our Phase 1 environmental analysis and our structural survey to determine where all of our utilities are located as well as what will have to take place with sewage and ground development. We are working with great companies to provide our surveys as well as the city and the county. Our agent has told us that the title company has a clear title to the land.

Our Construction Committee has meet twice in the last four weeks. We have begun looking at preliminary structural ideas. We are visiting other churches and reviewing options for the classrooms, rectories, and the gathering room.

We are receiving bids and interviewing builders as well as architects. Requirements are that they have built churches.

We will continue to update the website with our information.

Paul Fayad